LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

VOL. II. LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 18, 1882. NO. 36.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES

Alexandria Still Burning—Great Devastation.

Arabi Bey Still Marching on Port Said with 15,000 Men---Bulldozing the President---Mrs. Lincoln Dead.

PORT SAID, July 16.—There is an immense number of refugees here. Many women and children are expected to-day. The Europeans are imperfectly armed with revolvers and sporting guns.

GARRISONING ALEXANDRIA.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The Northumberland, with 700 men, the Tamar with 191 marines, and the Salmis and Agincourt have arrived here. The marines will land at Gabanis and two regiments at Ramleh.

FRANCE JOINS WITH ENGLAND.

PARIS, July 17. -The Cabinet council has resolved to accept the invitation to protect Suez jointly with England.

MARSEILLES, July 17.—Six French transports have been ordered to get ready to embark troops.

INCIDENTS OF THE MASSACRE.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17. — Admiral Seymour has issued a manifesto announcing that he has undertaken, with the consent of the Egyptian Government, the restoration of order. Nobody will be allowed to leave the town after sunset. During the massacre the soldiers set fire to the house of a lumber merchant. The maid servant escaped to the garden, where she remained by the fire, the soldiers laughing at her agony and firing at her, but purposely avoiding inflicting fatal injury, preferring to see her burn to death. Finally she rushed through the flames, and, though wounded by a bayonet thrust, she succeeded in securing a place of refuge, where she was discovered by the marines and handed over to the Americans. During the alarm of Saturday 150 Bedouins at the Gibanis gate fled before an attack of one midshipman and twelve sailors.

CAIRO ORDERLY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 17.—Order continues at Cairo.

TENTS AND STORES FOR SUEZ.

CALCUTTA, July 17.—The last mail steamer sailed with 1500 commissary tents and a large quantity of stores on board for Suez.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS.

ALDERSHOT, July 17.—The battalion of Munster Fusiliers was ordered to sail for Malta to-day.

THE ENGLISH FORCE IN ALEXANDRIA.

ADEXANDRIA, July 17. — Several fresh fires occurred last night. Troops from the troop ship Temeraire are disembarking, and will raise the total British force ashore to 6,000 men. The war steamer Helicon has entered two regiments going to Port Said from Cyprus and ordered them to Alexandria.

Four sailors and two of the Khedive's body guard rode to Kaffrel Dwar last night and reconnoitered Arabi's outposts.

NOTES.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Lieut. Jackson, who was wounded in the attack on the forts, is dead.

General Stone rode Sunday afternoon six miles in the direction of Arabi Pasha's camp, but saw nothing of his army.

The Khedive received notice that a large number of Bedouins had collected three miles from the railway gate, which is oppo-ite the weak point in our defenses.

ARABI PASHA'S WHEREABOUTS.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Arabi Pasha is still at Kafi Dwar. His force consists of four regiments of infantry, 1500 irregular troops, one regiment of cavalry with eight hundred horses, thirty-six Krupp guns and twelve mitrailleuses. The British have cut the Cairo railway near Lake Mariotis.

ALEXANDRIA STILL BURNING.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The Herald's Alexandria special says: The first reports of the devastation were greatly exaggerated. Although the devastation is the greatest in the European quarter, it is by no means confined to that point. The fires are scattered throughout the city and long lines of streets are still burning.

THE GRAIN MARKET RE-OPENED.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—The grain market has been re-opened for the supply of local consumption. Advices from Cairo indicate that everything is quiet there.

THE SITUATION AT ALEXANDRIA.

LONDON, July 17.—The Times has the following: Alexandria, July 16.—It is stated that Arabi Pasha is marching on Port Said with 15,000 men. A large force of Bedouins is apparently following. The American Consulate here is occupied by sixty American marines and twenty sailors. The houses around, being on fire, the Americans are blowing them up in order to save the Consulate. Arabi Pasha's forces are looting the entire country. The road to Cairo is blocked. Last night a strong band of Arabs entered Alexandria and killed a number of royal Egyptian soldiers. Admiral Seymour is laying a telegraph line all around the works. English soldiers are digging a grave in the square for twelve ruffians who are to be shot presently. The English are gradually getting the place in order, but the Arabs are still setting fire in some parts of the city. Advices received at the palace say that Arabi Pasha has dispatched the Under Secretary of War to Cairo to bring up immediately all the available troops and that he is busily engaged in entrenching Kafi El Dwar. One result of the shops being broken into is the demoralization of the soldiers and sailors. One American sailor was cut down to-day by his officer, Lieutenant Graham, for bad behavior. Last night about midnight we heard a great noise on the shore. I landed and found the troops getting ready to resist an expected attack. The English sailors and marines were forming in a square by the flickering light of the burning houses. The English sent word to the representatives of other nationalities, but all refused to help except the Americans. The Rusians, Greeks and Germans went aboard their vessels; but the Americans formed in line and said they would stop with the English. On going forward it was found that the Arabs had fired at some sailors and that a false alarm had occurred.

Fire at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—A fire early this morning destroyed a number of wooden buildings near the corner of Market and Spear streets. The loss will probably reach $40,000. Partially insured.

Mrs. Lincoln Dead.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 17.—Mrs. Lincoln, widow of the late President Lincoln, died in this city at 8:15 to-night from apoplectic paralysis.

Very Near a Tragedy.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—It has been ascertained that Robeson was armed on the occasion of his speech on the Naval Appropriation bill, when he made the violent attack on Whitthorne. He knew what to expect, and it is said he had a revolver in the pocket of his coat. Whitthorne was very mad when he ran towards Robeson, but on reaching him satisfied his wrath by shaking his fist in Robeson's face and calling him a liar. Robeson has said himself since that he was armed, and that had Whitthorne struck him he would have killed him in the presence of the entire House. Persons who looked down upon the scene realized then how near a tragedy might have been the result. Some Southern members anticipating that Robeson meant to shoot Whitthorne were ready to return the fire the moment Robeson drew his pistol.

Arthur Bulldozed.

CHICAGO, July 16.—The Times' Washington special says: The Times' correspondent has learned how J. B. Price's case was so summarily dropped, and how the jury came to report to the court that there was no warrant for the indictment. There has been a good deal said in the newspapers about the possible indictment of Senator Kellogg, and he became very much irritated about it. He finally decided upon a determined course. He took a carriage, went to the White House and had a talk with the President. He said: "I want this thing stopped right now. If you propose to let that man Bliss go ahead and indict me on the testimony of that d——d scoundrel, Walsh, I will resign my seat in the United States Senate quicker than a flash, and that will leave your Senate in the hands of the Democrats." He explained to the President his connection with Mr. Walsh, and said it was perfectly legitimate. He had borrowed money of him as a broker, and their relations were such as any public man would be justified in holding with a broker. "Now," said Kellogg, "I did not come up here to threaten or anything of that sort. I merely show you the position I will take if this thing goes any further. I will resign." This is given as one of the explanations of the sudden dropping of the case.

A Mob Regulating Morals.

CHICAGO, July 17.—A special from Musik Ferry, near St. Louis, reports that the negroes of that section were scandalized because Henry Francis, a German laborer, was living with an unmarried negress, and essayed to regulate the matter. Francis seeing a crowd of angry colored men about his house at midnight, shoved his musket through the window and fired. A. P. Rogers was killed and George Morris is believed to be fatally wounded. Francis has not been seen since. It is reported that the crowd took him out at daylight and drowned him in the Missouri river.

THE FRUIT INTERESTS.

State Board of Horticulture and its Works in the Past.

At the quarterly meeting of the State Board of Horticulture, held June 29th, President Dwinelle made the following address:

It seems fitting at this time to look back a few months and see what has been accomplished in the matter of horticultural quarantine against the spread of pests injurious to fruit and fruit trees, and to consider the present state of affairs and see what is needed in the future.

I am happy to say that leading nurserymen have maintained their high standing by adopting willingly the rules commended in regard to disinfection of trees and other plants sold.

San Jose will soon be noted for the health and clean condition of its nu series, which some time ago had such an unenviable reputation. No one can now plead ignorance of the law nor of the existence of insect pests. Any one selling infested nursery stock in ignorance is, to say the least, criminally careless. When he does it knowingly, he is a swindler of the worst description, who not only defrauds his customer of his money, but also sows the seeds of destruction in his orchard. Against such men should be brought to bear all the resources of the law. Even if the Acts of March 4th and 11th, 1881, be declared unconstitutional, or swept away, there are, fortunately, still statutes under which one can punish those who take his money and in return give that which is worse than valueless. The traffic in infested fruit has also been checked to a notable degree, but there is yet too much of it that is exposed for sale which is neither creditable to the grower nor profitable to the consumer. The Board of Health would do well to turn their attention to this matter. Does any one cry out that I am hurting his business by these statements? I reply that it must be a bad business that depends for profits on the sale of trees infested with scale bugs, apples and pears riddled by worms, or plums and currants coated with bark-lice. Any honest man can clear his reputation by inviting an impartial examination of his commodities, and their mode of treatment, by competent and unprejudiced persons of known high character.

IMPORTING PESTS.

For several years I have been warning the public against the importation of new pests from abroad with nursery stock, seeds, or other transportable material. I am pleased to know that this warning, coupled with that of others, has had some effect. Our chief horticultural officer has several times been called upon by consignees or their neighbors, to inspect trees arriving from the East. This is well, but such inspection should be made universal. We know of at least one car load of peach trees that were imported from a noted peach-growing region of the Atlantic coast, noted alike for its fine fruit and the insects which prey upon it, which seems to have escaped inspection. It is to be hoped that the importer and his customers may not have an experience similar to that of the Spanish, who are reported to have eluded the quarantine officers in importing vines from France so successfully as to introduce phylloxera into their before-favored country. I do know that last spring I received a letter from a gentleman residing in Wilmington, Delaware, asking how he could fight the curculio orchards. He stated that the loss of his fruit last season, through the ravages of that insect, was $20,000, and that my answer would be of interest to the owners of 3,000,000 peach trees. The curculio infesting fruit might be imported by the dosen, and pass under the eye of anyone not trained to look for them, without being perceived. They are small gray beetles, about the size of a grain of wheat, which, if alarmed, simulate death, and are easily mistaken for a dry piece of earth. There is one for the plum, apricot peach and nectarine, another for the apple, and so on. I cannot say whether they now exist in this State, but I can assert most emphatically that their general dissemination would be a calamity which in its pecuniary effects could be measured by nothing short of millions. I have raised in Western New York as fine crops of apricots and plums as ever grew, while my neighbors hardly knew these fruits, excepting in a worm eaten state. The labor and expense involved in so doing were, however, such as no California orchardist would voluntarily add to his present burdens.

WORMY PEACHES AND APRICOTS.

Some growers of stone fruits, whose knowledge of insect ravages has been mainly limited to those of the codling moth, have objected to quarantine on the ground that their fruit needed no protection. All such show their ignorance of the business, and of the myriad of pests which threaten it. They cannot have seen the various scale insects (coccidal) which not only render those fruits unfit for food, but also kill the trees themselves, root and branch. This spring I found a small brown speckled larva attacking the young shoots of the apricot at Berkeley. It is about as long as, but more slender than, the larva of the codling moth, and entering the young shoot near the tip, it hollows it out downward, causing it to wither and turn black. From one of these I bred a dark-colored moth, but have not yet determined its species. I am told that the same pest has appeared in the interior and has done considerable damage, particularly where it has attacked newly-budded stocks. On the 24th of this month (June) I bought a peach in Oakland which contained a larva closely resembling that of the codling moth. Subsequent investigations among the commission houses of San Francisco, showed that the new enemy had made an attack in force. In some lots of peaches the majority contained these worms. Its presence is usually indicated by the brown castings which it throws out from a small hole, which may be next the stem or at any other part of the fruit. In its early stages it is white, with black head and six black feet. Later the body becomes of a smoky hue. It will probably prove to be a close relative to the codling moth. If it has a second and third generation this season, what are the canners to do for choice late peaches? The cherries and apricots have also been attacked in places by caterpillars, which ruin their market value.

All of these pests are brought to our city markets in greater or less quantities with fruit and its packages. What are we to think of the judgment of orchard owners who wish to have their packages returned from such a pest-house without disinfection? I predict that in the not distant future men now opposed to horticultural quarantine will look back with amazement at their present position. Let us hope that it may not then be too late to save their property from destruction. Professor J. Henry Comstock says in the United States Agricultural Report for 1880: "The system of exchange of fruit boxes which is practiced in some markets, notably in San Francisco, is a very dangerous one * * * and, in any case, when boxes are sent to a market where fruit from infested orchards is received, they should be scalded on their return." This precaution will tend to check the spread of the codling moth and other pests, as well as scale insects." Professor C. V. Riley gives similar advice as to apple barrels in Missouri.

We are pleased to know that many of our California orchardists have given orders to have all their packages scalded before leaving San Francisco. They are men noted for their success in horticulture, achieved by intelligent attention to the details of the business. Others have solved the problem by adopting the free box, to go with the fruit. This can now be had at a very low price. Where the canner allows half of the original cost of the package, the actual value of the empty package to the producer is reduced to one or two cents.

In my conversation with orchardists I have found none opposed to the execution of the laws intended for their protection, excepting such as had not yet an adequate knowledge of the damage threatened them. Others who have felt the scourge ask that all return of packages be forbidden, and that the importation of fruit and fruit trees from infested regions outside of our borders be absolutely prohibited, or subjected to the strictest quarantine. As to what step must be taken in this latter regard I leave to the suggestion of those who have their money invested in the industry threatened. It is not too much to say that the man who has any interest in fruit production or selling in this State, and yet places obstructions in the way of the execution of laws intended to foster that industry, is his own worst enemy, and a blind leader of the blind.

ETIWANDA.
Unprecedented Development of a New Fruit-Growing Settlement.
Choice Land and Abundant Water, Owned and Controlled by Settlers, piped to each Ten-acre Tract.
Streets are Being Graded and Shade Trees are Being Set along the Avenues and Streets.
The "Holt System" of Ownership and Distribution of Water—the most perfect in use on this Coast—has been Adopted.
During Four Months Ending June 15, over 500 Acres of Land sold at $100 per Acre, and over 200 Placed Under Cultivation.
A few more Tracts will be Sold at $100 per Acre, after which the Price will positively be advanced.
Those who Buy First can have Choice of Location in Addition to the Benefit of the Rise in the Value of the Land.
Chaffey Brothers, Proprietors; Post office Address, Cucamonga, California

In presenting the Etiwanda tract of land to the public, we desire to give a simple statement of facts, and can do no better than by quoting the following article from a recent issue of the Riverside Press and Horticulturist, written by its editor after a careful investigation of both the land and the water system:
Etiwanda is located at the foot of the mountains, six miles east of the celebrated Cucamongo vineyards, at an elevation of from 1,000 to 1,600 feet above sea level, and about forty-five miles from the ocean in a direct line.
The tract, when complete, will consist of from 3,000 to 4,000 acres and perhaps more, and will extend from the mountains on the north to the Southern Pacific Railroad on the South, where Etiwanda station will be established as soon as the settlement will warrant it.
The soil is a rich sandy loam, mixed with gravel, and is well adapted to the cultivation of orchards and vineyards. As evidence of this fact, the Cucamonga vineyards and the orchards of San Gabriel and Pasadena are cited as being at the foot of the same range of mountains and on similar soil.
The water supply comes from two canyons in the mountains. The Etiwanda Water Company absolutely own these two water privileges. No one else has any rights in them; the rights are undisputed and the streams are never failing. These water rights are as good as any in Southern California, and the title and quantity of water being beyond question, act at rest one of the most vexatious and important questions connected with horticultural pursuits in this country.
The Etiwanda Water Company was incorporated May 9, 1882, as the most convenient method of owning and distributing the waters of the Etiwanda settlement. The Company contracted with Chaffey Brothers, who were the owners of the land and water at Etiwanda, for all their water rights. The Chaffey Brothers also contracted to construct a distributing reservoir at the head of the tract of land, to pipe or flume the waters of the two canyons to this reservoir, and to conduct the water in concrete pipes from this reservoir to the highest corner of each tenacre tract of the lands to be sold. In payment for these water rights, reservoir, flumes, system of pipes, etc.—all of which become the absolute property of the Water Company—the Company convey to the Chaffey Brothers the stock of the Company, to be estimated as follows: On the first of September, 1882, the water is measured where it is emptied into the reservoir from the flume, and one share of stock is issued for each one-eighth inch of water in the stream at the time of such measurement. The Chaffey Brothers reserve the right to develop and save water in the canyons and in certain cienegas or springs near the mouth of the canyons. These rights of development are reserved for ten years.
On the 15th of July of any year within the ten years, as the waters of the canyon and springs are developed, new measurements of the streams are made where they empty into the reservoir, and stock is issued for the increased amount of water over the basis above given. These measurements are provided for in mid summer at a time when the mountain streams are at their lowest point.
On this contract the Chaffey Brothers are allowed on demand one thousand shares of stock, to go with the land now sold and the land to be sold during the summer.
One share of stock is given by them with each acre of land sold, so that when the land is all sold the settlers will own and control the water company.
The quantity of water is fixed and definite. Each ten acres of land will be entitled to 37½ inches of water for 24 hours every month, except in an extraordinary dry season when the amount will be a little less. During the winter of course water will be plenty, and during the spring, up to July 1st, the amount will be far in excess of this basis.
The price of water will be regulated by the cost of taking care of the company's property, and distributing the water to the stockholders. It is estimated that when the tract is fully settled this cost cannot exceed fifty cents an acre per year.
The water, in coming down from the mouth of the canyons to the reservoir falls about 1,000 feet in two miles, and the stream will furnish a very fine water power of forty horse power every quarter of a mile down the slope. By piping the water this power can be utilized without loss of water. The Chaffey Brothers reserve this water power, and intend within a year to pipe the water far enough to secure sufficient power to run an electric machine capable of furnishing electricity for three electric lights. These lights will be put upon towers, and one tower will be erected, it is thought, within a year, and the other towers will be put up as the settlement is extended. The main cost of running electric lights is the power, and this costs nothing after once in operation. The cost of the carbon candles is merely nominal.
Before the 1st of January, 1883, the Chaffey Brothers will erect a school house and have a school in

PROTEST FROM AN OLD DEMOCRAT.

The following note and communication appended we find in the San Francisco Bulletin. The writer several years since was a prominent politician, and occupied a distinguished position on the Bench of San Francisco. His views are shared by very many of his party, who are coming to the front rapidly to enter their protest against the platform that has been adopted by the Democracy. We have repeatedly asserted that the Democracy was hopelessly divided, and have heretofore given much of the evidence upon which our faith is based. The communication from Mr. Shattuck only strengthens our case:

EDITOR BULLETIN: Some ten days ago I sent a manuscript to the Daily Examiner for publication, with the request that it be returned if publication was refused. It has not been returned or published, but so much time has elapsed that I infer the refusal to publish, and enclose a copy herewith, requesting its publication in the Bulletin.

You will much oblige me by publishing it, for, although too old to discuss questions of policy, I desire to enter my protest against the seeming short cut taken by the Democratic Convention to commit the whole party to a policy which had not been agitated, and to which, certainly, very many others as well as myself must stand opposed.

Yours truly,
D. O. SHATTUCK.

Sonoma, Cal., July 11, 1882.

FOR THE "EXAMINER."

MR. EDITOR: I have continuously voted the Democratic ticket for the last twenty years, sincerely believing that its success would best promote the prosperity and happiness of our whole country; but I confess myself disappointed and mortified by the act of the late Convention in making the repeal of the Sunday Law a distinct issue. The repeal of that law had not been a question before the people anywhere, except San in Francisco, and not even there except by two excited factions, and not seriously considered by the people generally. No delegation from any county, to my knowledge was elected in reference to it. It never in this State has been a party question. It is not necessarily and naturally Democratic doctrine. I consider its introduction an unfortunate mistake and a firebrand for evil, showing much more courage than discretion. It means mischief, and cannot be sustained without a division of the party. I desire to make the point that the clause of the platform referred to be entirely ignored by the party press as unauthorized and unjust, and that the candidates and voters be absolved from all obligation to support it. To submit my views in few words, I make the following proposition:

First. That the law known as the Sunday law, having never, as to its policy, expediency and propriety, been generally discussed before the people, was improperly brought before the Convention, and that said Convention had no authority from their constituents to act upon it, and that the Democratic party is not bound by such action.

Second. If the repeal of said law is persisted in as Democratic doctrine during the coming campaign, the party will be divided, and if not beaten at the polls, will, in my judgment, deserve defeat.

Third. That the said law is not sumptuary, is not unconstitutional, nor unjust, nor oppressive, nor fanatical, nor unwise; but, on the contrary, I maintain that it is the reverse of all this—a wise, conservative and just law, which, if properly enforced, will be found among our laws most efficient in promoting the peace, prosperity and happiness of the whole people, and that it should not be repealed.

Fourth. There will be found no difficulty in enforcing a constitutional conservative law when the people more fully understand its object and advantages.

Fifth. That no class of people are materially injured by the observance of the Sunday law except the saloon keepers, and many of this class live and thrive by debasing and corrupting the community. They are plying a vocation which necessarily tends to the injury of society, and is continued upon the sufferance of the people. The abuse of their calling has caused the founding of temperance organizations; and these abuses only make temperance crusades respectable or tolerable. They should be regulated by law or abated as a nuisance, and they have no right to complain of the law to close up and give peace on election days and Sundays. These points I leave for others to reflect upon and elaborate.

D. O. SHATTUCK, of Sonoma.

GAMBLING AT SANTA MONICA.

Notwithstanding the urgent request made to our officers to stop the gambling at Santa Monica on Sunday, nothing was done so far as we can learn at our present writing. We saw two tables on the public street, and the ears of passers-by were outraged by the vulgarity, profanity and obscenity of those running the games or looking on. The Sheriff's deputies were advised of the games, but declined to interfere with them.

DETRACTIONS.

The Express says "we shall look for a perfect avalanche of libels upon the standard-bearer of the Democratic party," ere the election day shall come. From its knowledge and practices the Express knows how it is done, and remembering its readiness to publish the Garfield-Morey letter, we are not surprised to hear of its yelling "stop thief" to direct attention from a real culprit.

SQUARE TALK ON THE MAIN QUESTION.

The Argonaut, of San Francisco, has wheeled into line and manfully opened its batteries on the enemy. If it does not silence some of the guns of the opposition, it will be a strange occurrence, for the aim is most excellent and the ammunition first-class. We shall deem no apology called for in introducing the remarks of our colaborer to our readers:

The League of Freedom is an organization of liquor-dealers, corner grocers, brewers, and lager-beer venders. It is composed of men who manufacture and sell alcoholic drink. The "Sunday Law" is an act of the legislature restraining the sale of drink on Sunday. This law was passed by the Legislature of California, after deliberation, by a majority of its properly elected members. The constitutionality of its provisions having been questioned, it was finally decided by the Supreme Court of California to be in accordance with our organic law. An endeavor having been made by temperance organizations for its enforcement, the league is organized to defeat it. Hence we see two contending organizations, one composed mostly of native-born Americans, to uphold and sustain the law, the other composed mostly of foreign-born citizens, to defeat the law. We are not discussing the temperance question, the Sunday question, or the native-American question. But no good citizen, who is intelligent and interested, can doubt that the League of Freedom is wrong, and the temperance people right. The league members are law-breakers, and whatever anybody may think of prohibitory liquor laws, of Sabbath observances, of the wine interests of the State, or any of the kindred questions that are allied to this one, there ought to be, and there can be, no honest difference of opinion as to the attitude of this league to the law. In a country where all are electors, and have an equal voice in making, interpreting and executing the laws, there is no possible justification for an organization for the avowed purpose of setting a law at defiance. The Democratic party in convention has bid for this liquor-vending and law-breaking interest. It will get it. The Republican party will not bid for it, and if it does, the temperance and Sabbatarian people will run an independent ticket, the result of which would be to enable the Democracy to carry the State.

* * * * * * *

And now, let us be distinctly understood. We mean to say in this article just this, and this only; When in a Republican government a law has been fairly enacted and judiciously determined, it ought to be accepted by all good citizens. Any other rule leads to anarchy, and finally to destruction. This can be accepted by the reader who is not a church-goer, who does not profess religion, and who finds his Sunday's rest not within sound of the church bell. It can be accepted by the man who hates "blue" laws, sumptuary laws, and all sorts of laws restraining personal liberty, and interfering with the freedom of his conscience. It can be accepted by the man who does not favor the prohibitory liquor laws, and by the vine-grower who conscientiously believes that the very best way to solve the temperance problem and the saloon problem is to place a bottle of pure California wine on the dinner-table or with the outgoing dinner-pail of every working man in California. It can be accepted—this proposition to obey the law, for it is that and nothing more—by every man and woman who has been reared to an observance of the Sabbath as God's holy day, to every total-abstinence temperance man who sees in the liquor traffic the greatest evil that curses humanity. If the Sunday law is wrong, let it be repealed, but until it is repealed let it be obeyed and respected as the law of the State.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS.

The society worshipping in the Fort street Methodist Church have been compelled to add to the seating capacity of their house, and will now proceed to carry out the original design of the building, by adding the gallery. This will be done by extending the small gallery now at the east end of the Church along each side nearly one-half the length of the room, and across it, with a circular frontage. Seats will be arranged after the manner customary in theater dress-circles. It will increase the seating capacity of the building some two hundred and fifty. Additional to this improvement, the desk is to be brought forward some four feet, to make room in the present choir for the new organ, on the casing of which the carpenters are now at work. There will also be a general cleaning up and whitening or papering of walls and ceiling, and possibly a new carpet. The whole work will do much to make the edifice retain the position it at present holds of being the most pleasant and commodious Protestant house of worship in the city.

GENERAL CROOK.

It will afford Arizonians and all the friends of that Territory pleasure to know that General Crook is again to be placed in command of the military of that section. General Crook is a thorough soldier and an estimable gentleman. The drubbing he gave the Indians when there before is well remembered by the redskins, and they will be slow to make another break when they know he again heads the column.

The telegraph yesterday brought us the intelligence of the decease of the widow of the late President Lincoln. She died at Springfield, Illinois, from apoplectic paralysis.

UNFAIR CRITICISM.

The Climate will Stand the Test of Fair Criticism.

Many invalids who come here with the hope of receiving permanent benefit in our magnificent climate seem to expect at least instant relief from pain if not immediate recovery, although they have, in many cases, contracted diseases in thier former homes, from which they have suffered untold misery for many years. And when occasionally an invalid fails to obtain relief and succumbs to a disease of long standing, unfavorable comments are frequently made, reflecting severely on the climate, in which unfair criticism and even malice are the principal characteristics. The many apparently hopeless cases who come among us and are permanently cured receive comparatively little publicity. Among those who have thus obtained relief, after resorting to every known method, and traveling all over the country in a vain search for it, may be mentioned that of a Chicago lady, wife of Mr. J. W. Badeau, formerly a prominent business man of that city. Hoping against hope, as she was a terrible sufferer from a multiplicity of diseases and had become reduced to a mere skeleton, the family arrived here about three months ago, and with a moderate amount of medical treatment, with a constant exposure to sunlight and air, and frequent drives, she has already recovered sufficiently to justify the expectant hopes of her relatives that the cure will be permanent. This is one among many which could be cited.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON NEWS.

A Hitch in the Fast Mail service—A Church Sensation.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The Postmaster General is much discouraged regarding the proposed fast mails to the West and South, having found the railroad companies unwilling to put on fast trains at a reasonable rate.

An illustration of the slow progress of legislation on private claims occurred on Saturday. Philip Reich, aged 82, came here on a visit and found Congress wrestling with the same bill that it was considering when he was here over sixty years ago, being a Spanish war claim of R. K. Meade.

Quite a stir was caused in church circles by the publication of a letter by Rev. Dr. McKenney, of Wesley Chapel, charging that whisky cocktails and wines were too freely used at the White House. The President habitually goes late to church because he don't like the church service in use there.

Inquiring into Matters.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Robinson introduced several resolutions into the House in the interest of American prisoners in England; also calling on the Secretary of the Navy for instructions under which Commodore Nicholson threatened to fire on Alexandria; and whether American sailors were performing police duty in Alexandria under the British Admiral, and by whose authority.

Quo Warranto.

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—In quo warranto proceedings before Judge Snyder, at Bellville, by the merchants of St. Louis against the East St. Louis Board of Trade, the judge decided against the latter and ordered information filed and summons served on President Butler of the Board.

Indian Endurance.

LITTLE ROCK, July 17.—An Indian Territory dispatch says the Cheyenne sun dances are progressing with great trials of physical endurance. Young bucks cut slits down their backs, run sticks through a rope tied to the ceiling and fastened to a pony. The pony is then driven off and tears the strips from the back. The strips are then thrown at the foot of a pole in the center of the camp. The ceremonies to the sun continue three days.

Cincinnati Strikers.

CINCINNATI, July 17.—The strikemen, on going to the works to day, found that the compromise had not been fully agreed upon. The boilermakers thereupon had a conference, and refused to work at the old rates, but did not order a continuance of the strike. This allows them to work if they please, and several do.

Alexandria Items.

ALEXANDRIA, July 17.—Taul Basha, the military commander of Alexandria, is said to have personally engaged in looting and arson. The Austrian consul is the only foreign diplomat who thought it necessary to quit Alexandria. He has gone to Port Said. Dervish Pasha states that he had sent fifteen telegrams to Constantinople for troops. All were unanswered.

Had Gone too Far.

LONDON, July 17.—In the Commons this afternoon Dilke, Under Foreign Secretary, stated that he found he had gone too far in stating that Germany had expressed an approval of the bombardment of Alexandria. This declaration was made in consequence of semi-official contradictions. His statement to that effect is published in Berlin and Vienna.

A Horrible Accident.

BAKERSFIELD, July 17.—Wm. A. Menchin, conductor on a freight train, was fatally hurt at Caliente to-day. The cars backed upon him and drove a coupling pin through his body.

More Coolies.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The British sea tramp Malabar arrived to-day from Hongkong. The vessel has been temporarily quarantined pending the inspection of the passengers by the health officers.

Revolution in Equador.

PANAMA, July 8.—The Revolution in Equador continues to progress. Alfero, the Revolutionary leader, has declared he will shoot all officers he may capture who fight for Veintemala, the actual president. He asserts that in sustaining a dictatorship they become traitors to their country, and as such deserve death. Ambato, a large city on the road from Guayaguit to Quito, has fallen into their hands. All hopes of foreign intervention seems to have died out in Peru.

A serious railway accident occurred on the Taltal Railway on the 15th of June, in which ten lives were lost, and property valued at $15,000 was destroyed.

TOMBSTONE TICKINGS.

Killed Over a Cock-Fight—King of the Cowboys Dead.

TOMBSTONE, July 17.—Albert Y. Young, an old man sixty-seven years old, shot and instantly killed William Bobier, two miles from town last night. The men were partners in a vegetable ranch two and a-half miles from town, and quarreled over a cock fight they were both interested in on Sunday. Bobier was a few years younger than Young and was the agressor. The coroner's jury exonerated Young from all blame.

THE "KING OF THE COWBOYS" DEAD.

John Ringgold, one of the best known men of Southwestern Arizona, was found dead at Morse's Cañon, in the Chihuahua mountains, last Friday. He evidently committed suicide. He was known in this section as "King of the Cowboys." He was fearless in the extreme, and had many staunch friends and bitter enemies. His pistol, with one chamber emptied, was found in his clinched fist. He shot himself in the head, the bullet entering on the right side, between the eye and the ear, and coming out on top of the head. Some members of his family reside at San Jose, California.

The "Calico Print."

The first issue of this long looked-for paper is at hand, dated July 12th. It is newsy and sparkling with wit, and contains besides much valuable mining information and the laws of the camp. It is a six-column paper. Vincent & Overshiner are the publishers. It bears marks of careful editing.

QUEER DEATHS.

People in Hart County, Kentucky, Dying without Disease.

[Louisville Comm rcial.]

About three weeks ago Mr. William Downey, of Blackwell's precinct, died in a very singular manner. His strength began failing on Wednesday without apparent cause, his flesh fell away with alarming rapidity, and by Monday following he had absolutely dwindled away witout having felt sick or suffered the slightest pain or indisposition. When placed on his deathbed, a few hours before he died, he was laughing and talking and declared that he never felt better in his life. Such a singular and unaccountable death naturally created considerable surprise and wonder in the neighborhood where it happened. But these were increased to consternation when in a few days after Mr. Downey's death, his daughter, Miss Sallie, who is about twenty-two years of age, was taken exactly as her father was, and without suffering the slightest pain or sickness has grown weaker and thinner each day, till she is but a skeleton of her former self, and at our last account was lying speechless upon what has doubtless proved her death-bed ere this. The physicians are completely nonplussed, and are unable to form the slightest idea as to the cause or nature of their very strange malady; and, to add to the confusion and mystery, the sickbed of the young lady has been almost constantly attended by strange and unnatural noises—sometimes seeming like the roar of a planing mill, then like a sewing machine, and again like many other things, continually changing but hardly ever ceasing. It has thrown the whole neighborhood into a fever of excitement, and scores of persons have visited the house where the young lady is sick, and are able to testify to the correctness of these statements.

A medical journal devotes a whole column to explaining what caused cold perspiration. Any one who has gone up a dark alley and stepped on a dog would be wasting valuable time in reading it.

ABOUT TOWN.

The Board of Supervisors were equalizing all yesterday.

A buggy-robe is at the police station awaiting identification.

The marvel of the nineteenth century—the glass dress at 116 Main street. 13

Our citizens should not fail to see Prof. Greiner's glass steam engine in operation. 13

Miss Blanche was arrested yesterday by a fish peddler on a charge of stealing five dollars.

Samuel Moran and force are engaged in painting the whole interior of the Cosmopolitan Hotel.

A pistol shot was heard on Los Angeles street just before midnight. Who fired it could not be found.

Peter Wilson was fined five dollars yesterday by Judge Adams for dumping rubbish in the river bed.

Marleau & Raynes, 52 Spring street, have received the agency for the celebrated "Manilla" cigars.

It is expected that Wilmington will become a full fledged port of entry about the first of September.

Mr. P. Ulbricht, of this city, has taken the position of distiller at L. J. Rose's distillery, Sunny Slope.

Joe Bayer has purchased the MacKenzie house, on First street, between Rose and Hewitt streets, for $700.

The examination of G. S. McCurdy, on a charge of adultery, will be held this morning in Judge Fisher's court.

The City Council as a Board of Equalization was in session yesterday afternoon and adjourned until 1:30 P. M. today.

Mr. Chas. Coleman has moved the office of the Semi-Tropic from Baker block to corner of Court and Spring street.

Harry Penfield, one of Hellman, Haas & Co.'s clerks, has gone to San Francisco on a couple of weeks' "paseo."

There were thirty-seven passengers came up from Wilmington yesterday, having arrived from San Francisco on the Ancon.

Mrs. Fred. Binder, who received serious injuries in the head at the hands of Henry Anderson, is reported to be insane.

A. F. Abbot, who has just returned from the San Juan Hot Springs, reports one hundred and sixteen people camped at that place.

An entry made yesterday in the record book of the police station reads thusly: "Jack; drunk (old story); 6 A. M.; city; Capt." It needs no moralizing.

Dogman! spare not the dog, but catch him everywhere! Around Banning and New Turner streets the people claim they have more than their share.

The occupants of the Spring street portion of R. Nadeau's property, corner Spring and First streets, were notified yesterday to vacate the premises.

Judging from the groceries going over Burch & Boal's narrow guage railroad, opposite the Postoffice, they must be doing a fine business in their new cash store.

Those oil stoves are just the thing needed by campers at Santa Monica. Call at Merrill & Babcock's, Spring street, opposite the Court House, and see them.

Charles Miller committed the crime of battery upon the person of Harry Newmark last Saturday evening, and was fined five dollars yesterday therefor by Judge Fisher.

Godfrey Bros., of the City Drug Store, keep a very complete stock of fresh drugs, medicines, stationery and toilet articles. The "prescription" cigar is constantly growing in popularity. Read advertisement in New To-Day.

The University Sunday School will picnic at Santa Monica next Thursday. The train will not leave there to return till 5 P. M., thus giving special inducements for visitors to go to the beach that day.

Mr. W. D. McClure, who recently purchased Mrs. Ellsworth's property on Alameda street, is building a barn and will shortly remodel the house, and put up a first-class windmill. He reports that himself and family are more and more pleased with this magnificent climate.

Our old friend Chapin is at his post as of yore at Santa Monica, and his shadow grows no less fast. His is the principal store of the city by the sea, and campers and transient residents there will find that they can't do better than to buy of him. He sells by the market rates in the DAILY TIMES.

The "Dime" social, to be held by the Good Templars, at their Hall, this evening, will doubtless be, in common with all their entertainments, an enjoyable affair. Young people not acquainted in the city should all be present, as they will find it one of the best methods possible of enlarging their acquaintance.

Mr. E. Covey and family returned from Santa Monica last evening with sharpened appetites looking forward to the good things in the pantry at home. But when they got there the cupboard was bare. The thief is supposed to be a wretched Mexican woman who was seen lurking about Alameda street. She fortunately had no use for the platter.

Santa Monica needs some sanitary regulations, and some one to enforce them. With such an invigorating and inspiring air, it seems doubly a shame to allow so much offensive matter to lie about the streets. Carcasses of cats, dogs and chickens are allowed in many places to fester and rot uncovered on the streets.

The fishermen on the wharves at Santa Monica were in big luck yesterday, most of them taking in a good string of the finny creatures. Henry Henderson, the brakeman and baggageman on the train, caught more than a hundred fine mackerel in about two hours' fishing. He took four at one haul of his hooks.

Attention is called to the advertisement of Messrs. Farrel & Clancy in New To-Day. They are both practical mechanics of long experience, Mr. Farrell's mechanical skill in connection with the Los Angeles Gas Works being well known and Mr. Clancy's long experience from boyhood in Harper, Moore & Co's establishment being also well known. Plumbing, gas and steam fitting, pump manufacturing and repairing are specialties with them. Read advertisement and give them a call.

SANTA MONICA.

A Look into the Future of Our Charming Seaside Resort.

Behold the Vast Shipping---The World's Commerce Unloading at Our Door---A Safe Harbor---Our Faith.

We have so frequently spoken of the charms of our seaside resort as to its healthfulness that we would deem it superfluous to reiterate our words of praise at this time. Its fame is worldwide and is a household word throughout Southern California and the adjacent territories. It is of its future we had rather speak. We like to thread its now quiet avenues and imagine the day when they will all be lined with tasteful cottages and pretty lawns, and thronged by thousands of busy feet. We like to turn our face seaward and in fancy see a harbor filled with the ships of all nations, taking hence our produce to all lands, and unlading there the teas and silks of China, oils from the northern ocean, wools from Australia, sugars from the Sandwich Islands, and any and all things from everywhere, that the various wants of the country may call for. And we like to think of a day when instead of one train per day of an average of perhaps forty or fifty passengers, the numbers may be multiplied to half a dozen trains, with their hundreds of health and pleasure seekers. And why may not all this come to pass?

For three hundred and sixty days in the year the harbor is quite as safe as is that of San Francisco within, without any of the dangers attendant upon getting into or out of the latter The bones of many a brave ship and braver seaman lie among the breakers about the Golden Gate. The causes that produced their shipwreck will never exist off Santa Monica, so that, taken all in all, it may be considered a much safer rendezvous for shipping than is the boasted harbor of the now Queen City of the Pacific. And when our broad acres are all under cultivation, and we have preserved fruits, and wine, and corn, and oil, in the abundance that a near future will give us, ships of heavy tonnage will be sought for and must be had for the transportation of these products, and will return to us with lading for the many eastern roads that are to find their coast landings at this peerless bay. This is no fancy sketch. The boys are born who will see it.

But we need not look so far into the future to see a Santa Monica of great interest and a large population. The population and wealth which is being drawn to us already looks with a jealous eye upon the broad, beautiful acres which are there swept by the health-giving Pacific breeze, and they will soon follow the inclination to own some of them. Once started, and the flood will flow steadily until from the beach to the mountain the entire acres will become what the few cultivated spots are now—things of beauty. And there, removed from all fear of malaria, in homes freed from the fetid air of the crowded city, will live the families of our wealthier business men and well-to-do mechanics, and early trains from the forest city by the sea will bring to the day's business here hundreds of those who will move the complicated wheels of the business of a large city. To suppose this is not to be realized, is simply to suppose we are not to grow, and that the immense expansion of our city and surroundings will receive a sudden collapse.

We have faith in the picture our imagination has painted, and consider it is not extravagant to suppose it will dawn upon us in the next decade. And to attain that will be doing but little more than we have done in the last decade. And for the glorious consummation we most devoutly wish, let all labor and learn to wait.

Made a Mistake.

LOS ANGELES, July 25, 1882.

EDITOR TIMES:—In your paper of yesterday your reporter made a big mistake under the head of "Not Collectable." It was myself made the sale of Norman McKenzie's house and lot on Fort street to a gentleman by the name of Milligan, who was ready with his money ($750) to buy the place, but McKenzie refused to sell for less than $800, after giving instructions to sell for $700, which was done in writing; hence the suit for my commission. The man did stand upon his legal rights, but refused to pay any commission on the sum obtained for the property. When the suit was brought I did not find the law against me, but that I had been sold out, or given away, by my lawyer, he having compromised the case without my knowledge or consent, and the case never was heard in Court—but, however, my costs were returned to me, and that was all the law or justice I obtained in the matter. but for my services got knocked down by Joe Bayer, a friend of McKenzie, for which he was arrested and paid a fine of twelve dollars to his honor Judge Fisher. Thus ended another real estate commission case. Yours very respectfully,

ALFRED MOORE.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of Thomas Strohm, the First street grocer. Treasure Japan teas, choice coffees, canned goods, saner kraut, Limburger cheese, Russian sardines, Hamburg eels, and many other specialties are mentioned. Orders received personally or by telephone are promptly attended to, and lowest market prices charged.

There is a crayon portrait on exhibition at Mr. Valder's show window, the work of Mr. A. H. Tallman. It will pay all interested in the art line to see this excellent piece of crayon work. Mr. Tallman intends opening a studio in Mr. I. W. Hellman's new building on Main street.

A couple of men were arrested the other day on a charge of attempting to pass a counterfeit fifty-dollar gold note at the depot for passage money. On examination the bill was found to be genuine, and the men were discharged.

While playing with another boy yesterday, a five-year old son of Mr. Birnbaum, the merchant Taylor, was struck on the head by a large stone. The little fellow bled profusely, but is not hurt seriously.

We regret to learn that F. A. Gibson, Esq., has not yet begun to recover from his illness, and was considered very sick last evening—so much so that the physician had excluded visitors from his bed.

Mr. Tyrrell, formerly with John Wilson the Main street blacksmith, is preparing to build a two story blacksmith and wagon shop on First street near Vine street.

The "Live and Let Live" market, corner of first and Alameda streets, is a reliable and cheap place to purchase meats of all kinds, which are delivered free to all parts of the city.

There is sufficient iron now on hand at National City to lay the track of the California Southern railroad to within five miles of Colton.

It was reported around town yesterday that a well-known citizen of Downey had eloped with another man's wife.

A big porpoise floated ashore near the South Santa Monica wharf yesterday.

The Fair Committee has obtained subscriptions to the amount of $2400.

Southern California Lodge No. 191, A. O. U. W., meets this evening.

The Knights of Pythias initiated seven members at their last meeting.

Tombstone now rejoices in four daily newspapers.

The Ancon went to San Diego last night.

ORANGE ITEMS.

The Scale Bug—Camping—A Pleasant Party.

As the circulation of your paper is fast spreading its interesting news among the inhabitants of our valley, a knowledge of what is going on in our midst may be of some interest to yourself.

The wordy war against scale bugs to all appearance has come to a sudden termination.

Many of our people are enjoying the camping season at Laguna and Santa Catalina Island, but in spite of the novelty which illures the young and old alike, there were enough left in our village to compose a handsome lawn party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren at their residence Saturday afternoon July 15th. Croquet was the order of the evening, and the misses ruled. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters, Mrs. Littlefield, Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Ricks of Yreka, Mrs. Condit, Mrs. Bloeser of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Warren, Miss Emma Turner, Miss Georgie Turner, Miss Zuggy Turner, Miss Lizzie Rubottom, Miss Flora Lawson, Miss Flora Frazer, Miss Edith Clark, Miss Blanche Hudson, Miss Fannie Shaffer, Miss Myrtle Yarnell, Miss Blanche Howard, Master Fred Littlefield, Master Guy Littlefield, Messrs. Martin Brittyhoff, Artie Yarnell, Will Bush, Geo. Peters and Master Lue Hudson.

A SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Timothy Dillon Shoots Santiago Arguello in a Drunken Row.

Yesterday morning, shortly before one o'clock, an altercation took place on Temple street between Timothy Dillon and Santiago Arguello, in which Dillon shot Arguello in the shoulder. The two had been drinking together Sunday evening, when Arguello took a notion to stay with Dillon, who thought it was for the purpose of robbing him. After drinking in several saloons, Dillon started up Temple street to get away from Arguello, who followed him closely. Dillon says that Arguello then tried to rob him, and in the scuffle the hammer of Arguello's pistol pinched one of Dillon's fingers. Dillon then drew his pistol, and fired at Arguello, the ball severely injuring Arguello's shoulder. Dillon claimed he fired in self-defense. He was promptly arrested by the police, and locked up. Arguello was taken home. Dillon was arraigned before Judge Adams yesterday morning. Arguello refused to appear for prosecution. Owing to the slightness of the evidence Dillon was released on his own recognizance on motion of Assistant District Attorney Morgan, until his examination next week.

A Fine Home.

Conductor Gough is the possessor of one of the finest homes in Santa Monica. It is situated in the upper portion of the city, near the school building, which is a handsome edifice, and is fairly embowered in trees and shrubbery. Flowers from nearly every clime, and fruits from all regions are represented in his well-kept grounds. His house is handsome to look upon and very tastefully furnished, and with a large family of rugged healthy children and a cheerful, loving helpmeet, one can but be impressed with the fact that his lines are cast in pleasant places. Mr. Gough himself says he feels as though he was but a fifteen year old boy, though a year ago he was half a century old. The sea bathing he thinks has been a great benefit to him, and a perfect cure from dyspepsia, which he has experienced, he attributes to this cause.

INFORMATION WANTED.

News of Wandering Men Wanted by Their Friends.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., July 7, 1882.

MR. POSTMASTER—Dear Sir:—Will you please be kind enough to find out if there is in your town a man by the name of James P. Rea. His mother is a poor widow, and noticed in the Philadelphia Record some time ago that there was a Mr. Rea killed by the Indians in Arizona. She is very anxious to hear from him. You will greatly oblige her by answering this soon. Respectfully,

MRS. ELIZABETH REA.

WEDGEWOOD, N. Y., July 9, 1882.

SIR:—If you know anything of a man by the name of Eliathan Rumsey please write me, also hand him this note; he may hear something that will be an advantage to him. He was in that vicinity the last we heard from him. Answer soon and oblige,

MISS SUSAN RUMSEY.

The Latest Mongolian Freak.

A gentleman living in San Fernando was boiling with rage a day or two ago at the discovery of a horribly dirty trick, too filthy to mention, performed by his Chinaman in the process of making yeast. Discovering him in the act, the Mongolian's employer gave him the full benefit of his toes, backed by a corpulent and solid frame, pitching him a distance of eight or ten feet. The wretch limped back and abjectly pleaded, "Me do alle came alle Chinamen; him makee heap good yeast."

Put a Stop to It.

Three gambling games were in progress in the open streets of Santa Monica on Sunday last. It is a shame and a disgrace to the people of this county that such things are allowed to exist in the broad sunlight of heaven, and we call upon our constabulary to suppress it. Such a condition of things might have been tolerated in the old chaotic times of the argonauts, but that time has passed, and decency, morality, and all that is good demand that it be stopped.

An Important Acquisition.

It is reported that one of the largest tanneries on this coast will shortly be removed to this city. It is to be hoped that the report is true. With the proper amount of enterprise and well directed efforts on the part of citizens generally the stigma of being practically a nonmanufacturing city would soon be removed from our fair city, and the acquisition to our population would find profitable and permanent employment.

I. O. C. F.

The following were installed as officers of Orange Council, No. 36, I. O. C. F. last Friday evening, July 13:

L. H, Hannas, P. C. C.; A. W. Edelman, C. C.; F. M. Coulter, N. C.; Isaac S. Smith, Secretary; S. M. Perry, Financier; O. Hopperstead, Treasurer; Mrs. Lucrica Nolte, Prelate; T. Nolte, Marshal; Saml. Kutz, Warden; J. Simmons, Guard; J. A. Cline, Sentry.

An Ingenious Contrivance.

Mr. John Koster of the Spring street Bakery, has invented a novel method of notifying customers of the approach of his bread wagon. He has a gong placed in his wagon, connected with which is a foot attachment that is easily worked, striking the gong when customers are to be notified of the wagon's approach. Mr. Koster's enterprise is well known, and the new arrangement will be a good card for him.

Haystack Burned.

Some boys were playing on Sunday with matches on a haystack in the rear of the Arroyo Vista place, at Pasadena, when the stack took fire, and burned down. The conflagration was a genuine sensation for the Pasadenians, and a large crowd assembled to witness the "fire fiend" do his deadly work.

Petit Larceny.

A Chinaman named Ah Sing was arrested at half-past one o'clock yesterday afternoon by Captain Cuddy for stealing a pair of pants from A. Norton's store in Baker block on Main street. The charge of petit larceny was booked against him.

COMPTON.

Rich Silver Ore from the San Gabriel Mines.

Joining the Throng at Catalina---M. E. Campmeeting Begins on the 25th---Personals---Public Schools.

Some of the richest silver bearing ore we ever inspected was shown by Mr. Kelsea from his mine in San Gabriel canyon.

A party consisting of the Misses Fannie, Katie and Lucy Howard, Mrs. Jessie Newmark and infant, Mr. Isaac Haylock, wife and infant, Uncle Billy Malott and Mr. Belsar, depart for Catalina the 19th instant. Messrs. Chas. Lyman and A. O. Daman went over on Monday.

M. E. campmeeting begins at the M. E. campground, one-half mile east of Compton the 25th instant.

Mr. Douglas, our railroad agent, went to Wilmington and "officiated" for the agent there, who was off on a pasea.

Mr. Isaac Wilson has just completed a good flowing well at his house.

Mr. Amos Eddy is on the sick list.

Several Comptonians attended the Quintette concert the 14th inst. in the city. All consider it a grand treat.

Mr. Geo. Flood started out on the mesa with his steam thrasher and a full crew on the 17th inst.

Mr. Will Haskins, Mr. Carson's most faithful butcher, has quit the business and seeks other employment; perhaps a position on a train.

On Friday afternoon we partook of some of the finest and best flavored apricots we ever tasted. They were grown by Mr. John Howard of Compton on trees four year old. Mr. H. said the trees would average one hundred pounds each. If properly cared for deciduous fruits of all kinds may be grown abundantly almost anywhere around Compton.

The public school opened the 31st inst. with A. O. Daman, principal; Emma Bisbee, intermediate; Lucy H. Jenkins, primary. D.

PERSONAL MENTION.

George E. Place has gone to Bakersfield.

Judge Sepulveda returned yesterday from Ventura.

Z. H. Taylor and wife, of Tombstone, are at the Pico.

Nathan Cole, Jr., of this city, is in San Francisco.

Frank M. McKewen, of Sacramento, is at the Pico.

H. H. Hubbard, of San Diego, is registered at the Pico House.

Dr. J. Bradford Cox, of San Jose, is registered at the Cosmopolitan.

W. S. Arnold and family, of San Diego, are at the United States.

J. O. Dunbar, editor of the Tombstone Republican, is at the Pico.

Mr. Louis Roeder and family returned home on the steamer Chester last Friday.

Warren P. Mace is a candidate for City Justice at the hands of the Democrats.

Mrs. S. Strohm has gone to the mountains for a change of air and scenes.

Mr. J. E. Hollenbeck and wife are among the passengers to arrive overland this morning.

Chas. E. Davis, President of the South Pacific Coast Railroad, is at the Cosmopolitan.

Mrs. Platt and little Lottie go up to Santa Barbara today for a visit of a couple of weeks.

George N. Lockwood and family, who have been rusticating at the Salt Works, below Santa Monica, have returned home.

J. N. Hughes, of St. Louis, is in the city with a view of settling. He is greatly pleased with the city and surroundings.

Mr. C. P. Thurston, Dillon & Kenealy's book-keeper, has secured a similar position in the employ of the Los Angeles Packing Company, East Los Angeles.

Miss Foy is back at her post in the Public Library, after a few days' rest at Santa Monica. It was difficult to say yesterday morning whether she would be in Los Angeles or China by night from the way she struck out through the breakers.

Messrs. Geo. H. Fullerton and E. T. Kingman, of Brockton, Mass., arrived yesterday by the northern route. They are guests of the Cosmopolitan, and will proceed to Riverside to-day, where they have property interests.

Miss Nelly Backus left to-day for San Francisco and other places, intending to resume duties in her new field allotted to her in East Los Angeles on her return. She may be sure of a hearty welcome from many friends.

RIVERSIDE RIPPLES.

[Press and Horticulturist.]

San Bernardino is raising funds to buy a steam fire engine. It needs one badly.

The County Hospital property is advertised to be sold at auction on Saturday, July 22d.

A postoffice has been established at Pujol, San Diego county, with Macedonia Machado postmaster.

The San Jose cannery is employing 175 hands, the Golden Gate at San Jose 300 hands and the Riverside cannery 200 hands.

Nicholson, the highwayman, is yet at large, and his partner whom he shot is still lingering along with little danger of recovery.

A silver brick, 998 fine, weighing 173 pounds, came in from the Waterman mine to San Bernardino a few days since. It was valued at over $3000.

The poles and wire for the Etiwanda telephone line are now on the ground and will be put up as fast as workmen can do the job. Probably inside of two weeks the connection will be made.

Trains leave the end of the track for San Diego since Monday last and until further notice at 10:30 A. M., and arrive there from San Diego at 3:10 P. M. Those interested in the travel over that line will please take notice.

The contract for building the Riverside schoolhouse has been let to Whitney & Seymour for $6,500. Russ & Co furnish the lumber and other building material, and Mr. Whitney has gone to San Diego to get out the mill work.

The Riverside cannery has been putting up 8,000 cans per day, the Colton cannery 4,000 cans, and the Los Angeles 8,000 per day. The Riverside cannery has employed 200 hands in its canning and drying departments.

Dudley McDonald, of San Bernardino, didn't know the pistol was loaded last Sunday and at last accounts the physicians had not found the ball which was lodged somewhere in the shoulder. The wound is not a dangerous one.

On Thursday afternoon, the 13th instant, the telephone line to Redlands was completed and Mr. Brown's residence was placed in communication with the editorial rooms of the Press and Horticulturist in Riverside, over twenty-four miles of wire. A conversation was carried on readily the words traveling the distance without any perceptible delay.

A Curiosity.

Prof. C. E. Day has just received a curiosity from his cousin, Mrs. Pease, a missionary in the Gilbert group of Islands, Micronesia, where mail is received once a year only, by means of the missionary ship Morning Star. The curiosity consists of a mat, about three feet square, ingeniously made of a species of sea grass, and very attractive in appearance.

The police impounded a bay mare yesterday, and entered the arrests among the other drunks.

A San Bernardino Party.

A large party of young people, and some older ones—just enough to keep them in the traces — came over from San Bernardino on the 7th and have been spending the intervening time in Santa Monica Canyon. They had a pleasant time, as they couldn't help doing with such a pleasant company. They broke camp and started home yesterday, most of them stopping in this city last night. Following are the names of the persons comprising the party: Mr. Emmet Stewart, Atlanta, Ga.; John Stewart, Sylvester McKellar, Downey; Jno. M. Foy, Jr., San Bernardino; Ed Stanley, Jas. Rives, Downey; Alice Finley, Modesto; Annie Stewart, Josie McKellar, Judie McKellar, Kate Manning, Mrs. Clifford Manning, Hattie Manning, Mrs. Manning, Mr. Ewell Manning, Downey.

HOME FROM CATALINA.

The Fishing—Celebrating the Fall of the Bastile.

Thomas Strohm, J. B. Binford, E. J. Thompson and Henry Lecroiq have returned from a very enjoyable trip to Catalina Island. They caught a large number of bar raccudas, and one large sunfish, weighing 160 pounds. The climax of the enjoyment was reached in a grand celebration of the fall of the Bastile under the management of Henry Lecroiq, appropriately terminating with a large bonfire and an extensive display of fireworks. Nothing occurred to mar the festivities but a rather painful accident to Henry Lecroiq, who fell over a tent rope, his chest coming in contact with the corners of a box, which hurt him considerably. Aside from that they all had a right royal time. The bathing is pronounced beautiful, with a gradual descent to the water, and no surf.

Just So.

MY DEAR TIMES: Having heard frequently of your outspoken fearlessness in attacking all wrongs and violations of order and justice, and having a full demonstration of the fact in your article of yesterday morning, that even a "Gough" is not sacred in your hands, even on the subject of whisky drinking, and at the same time realizing that "you know how it is yourself," I feel that I cannot get along without your really valuable paper. You will therefore add my name to your list for six months and oblige,

Yours respectfully, ——.

EPITAPHS APROPOS OF KEROSENE.

With oil of coal who lights the fire
Will be knocked like a kite, but higher.

Against coal oil I oft gave warning,
But Bridget's friends are now in mourning.

Not to use petroleum I Mary did advise,
But slack-a-day, her body in the kirk-yard lies

'Twere better far o'er fire to linger
Than with coal oil to burn your finger.

Kindle with kerosene, then ride ye
Like the Prophet of old—Elijah.

The kerosene kitchen help is a peripatetic fire-bug.

Dickery, dickery, dock,
The oil set fire to her frock;
The flame was red and she was dead,
Dickery, dickery, dock.

Put on the kindling, dash on the oil,
When the fire burns the kettle will boil:
When the can bursts the house is a-flame,
And, as is usual, there is no one to blame.

Ah, indeed, what might have been,
Were it not for kerosene.
There now.

PAIN FROM SEVERED LIMBS.

Persons Who Claimed to Suffer from Positions of Buried Members.

[Manchester Mirror.]

The feet of Josiah West, who met with that terrible accident on the railroad a few days ago, were yesterday taken by his wife to Fremont, New Hampshire, for burial. When the unfortunate man gained consciousness at the hospital the morning following the loss of his limbs, he complained that his toes pained him a great deal; that they seemed badly cramped, and he requested that some one move them for him. At that time the feet were tied in a bag, and the hospital people did not know where they were to be found. It seems simply incredible that the position or condition of a severed member of a person's body should affect in the least the sensibilities of the owner; but suffice it to say that the undertaker, with whom the writer conversed, affirms that he personally knows of numerous cases where persons who have lost a limb declared that they felt pain from an awkward position in which the member was in.

He cited an instance of a man who lost an arm in this city last fall. After being amputated it was sent to the undertaker's for burial. It was placed in a box, the back of the hand being down, remaining in this position for several hours. The owner of the severed member, during that time, experienced pain in the arm, which grew so unbearable that at last he asked a friend to go to the undertaker's and see about the limb. This was at 5:45 in the afternoon. The friend was busy and did not start off for half an hour, and during that time the pain had ceased and the wounded man said he need not go. He went, however, and found that the undertaker had just finished caring for the arm; that it had been placed in an easy and natural position in the box. The time when the arm was changed from the awkward position to the latter coincided exactly with the time when the owner had felt the pain leave him. When the friend reported to the unfortunate man, he (the latter) said he knew just how the arm was placed; that he could feel its position, and correctly understand the same.

Another case cited by the undertaker was about a man who lost an arm below the elbow. The member was given to the undertaker and buried. The man subsequently went to Lawrence to live. About a year after the accident he paid the undertaker a visit and told him his arm for a long time had pained him a great deal; and the fingers seemed cramped, and that he wanted to see the buried member. Accordingly, it was dug up and examined, and, strange to say, found to have the fingers tightly turned up toward the palm, as the man had said they felt to him. The fingers were straightened and the arm consigned again to the ground, and no more trouble was experienced from it.

Something New in Consumption.

The Reno Journal tells of the case of A. H. Barnes of that city, who fights off consumption by wearing a silver tube, which passes between the ribs into the lungs. In 1849, Mr. Barnes, then living in Sycamore, De Kalb county, Illinois, was declared an incurable consumptive. The lung was tapped and he recovered. In 1863 he was again taken down by the disease, when he once more resorted to the tube, and has worn it constantly ever since. There is a daily discharge of matter. Mr. Barnes is a man of very regular and temperate habits, does not use tobacco in any form nor stimulants of any kind; hardly ever uses any medicine, excepting sometimes a little iron for the blood; is always feeling well when the hole in his side is open, sometimes feeling a heaviness there, but has got used to that. This case is certainly worthy of the special attention of medical men. It seems to give a man a new lease of life, even when apparently dead. When Mr. Barnes conceived the idea of tapping his lung, all the physicians but one scouted it as a thing that would prove fatal. However, he persuaded one to perform the operation. In 1863 Mr. Barnes was in Honey Lake valley, and was on the brink of the grave. Now, again, the resident physicians were opposed to the idea of an incision, and after repeated appeals for an opperation, which was refused, Mr. Barnes borrowed a lance and cut open his side himself. He then inserted a catheter, and drawing off nearly a quart of matter immediate relief was found. The cough and expectoration stopped almost instantly, and Mr. Barnes was soon upon his feet again. Thus has he prolonged his life for over thirty years.

TRIVIALTIES.

Can a shepherd's crook be termed a ram-rod.

"I'll make a note of this," as the sharper said when he got a farmer to write his name on a slip of paper.

Smiles is the longest word in the language. Between the beginning and the end of it there is just one mile.

Ex-Secretary Evarts, who is increasing the size of his Vermont farm, is the man who, when asked by a friend for something from his pen, sent the gentleman a fine young porker.

Just as we expected. Thomas Hardy's new novel is called "Two on a Tower," and already an intelligent compositor has set it up "Two on a Tare." He's been there himself with more than two.

Powder explosion: A literary man, who had recently published a book, was observed to be very downcast last week. "What is the matter?" said a friend; "you look all broken up." "No wonder," was the reply, "I've just been blown up by a magazine."

It is alleged of Melville that he is an inveterate punster, and that after the wreck of the Jeannette, as they were trying to make their way through a field of ice, one of his men remarked: "That ice will surely oppose our progress." "So ice supposes," was Melville's rejoinder.

"Useful dentistry: "You look cheerful, Mr. Spiser," said a friend who met the old gentleman ambling down the avenue. "Yes," said the interrogated, "I have just had a trouble-some grinder pulled," and when the sympathizing gentleman asked him if it hurt him much, Seth cheerfully responded: "Not a bit; it was an organ-grinder, and a policeman pulled him."

A little Albany boy, aged eight years, was greatly annoyed by the destruction wrought upon his toys by his two-year old brother. The other night he asked his father how to spell the word "dangerous," and the next morning his mother was startled at the warning "dangerous" printed in big black letters across the top of the box. "Why, Tommy," said she, "why have you spoiled your nice, new present?" "I ain't ma. Jamie spoils all my things, and I put that on to scare him, so he'll leave my box alone."

Something Like a Sea Serpent.

The sea serpent must look to his laurels. The crew of a Shetland fishing boat unite in declaring that they were attacked a fortnight ago by a monster, in comparison with which the terror of the American waters is as insignificant as a shrimp. They declare they were hauling their lines twenty-eight miles east-southeast of Fetlar, when they saw at a short distance from them, something that had the appearance of three small hillocks, each about the size of a six-oared boat upset, which blew when coming to the surface. It disappeared in the direction of the boat, and shortly afterward they saw the monster pass underneath the boat. When it came up again it started right in their direction with its mouth wide open—a mouth, they said, that to all appearances could have taken in their boat. There seemed to be whiskers of a green color, and about seven or eight feet long, hanging from its mouth, very large green eyes, and on its head were great lumps about the size of a herring barrel. They threw stones at it, but it still came on toward them, and only again disappeared below water when a few yards from the boat, on a charge of swan shot being discharged out of a fowling piece into its mouth. The lines were then cut and all sail made for home, when the monster again appeared in their wake. This time they observed that it had two large fins, almost the size of the boat's mainsail, which were stretched up from its back; and its length they computed to be no less than 150 feet. It followed them up for a distance of nine miles, and then disappeared.

SUMMONS.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Sarah E. Hadley, Plaintiff, vs. L. S. Rigdon et al., Defendants.

ACTION BROUGHT in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said county of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to L. S. Rigdon, O. W. Childs, J. W. Hellman, J. G. Downey, defendants:

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days, (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain judgment against the said defendants that they may be required to set forth the nature of their several claims to the land described in the complaint, viz: Lot 7, block A, of West Los Angeles, as per map thereof recorded in book 3, page 142, Miss. Records of Los Angeles county, and that all adverse claims of said defendants may be determined by a decree of this Court, and that by said decree it be declared and adjudged that said plaintiff is the owner of said premises and that defendants or either of them have no estate or interest whatever in the said land and premises, and that defendants and each of them be forever debarred from asserting any claim whatever in said land adverse to plaintiff, and for such other and further relief as to equity shall seem meet, and for costs of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, this 10th day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

Summons.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.

A. R. Loomis, plaintiff, vs. P. F. McGuigan, defendant.

ACTION BROUGHT in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said county of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to P. F. McGuigan, defendant:

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to quiet the title to the following described real estate, situated in the City and County of Los Angeles, State of California, to wit: Being lot number 16 in block number 25, and lot number 10 in block number 21, in East Los Angeles, according to a map made by F. Lecouvreur in December, 1873. That defendant may be required to set forth the nature of his several claims to the above described property, and that all adverse claims of said defendant be determined by a decree of this Court; that by said decree it be declared and adjudged that said plaintiff is the owner of said land, and that the defendant has no estate or interest in said land or premises, and that defendant be forever debarred from asserting any claim whatever to said land and premises adverse to the plaintiff, and for such other relief as to equity seems meet, and for costs of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said complaint.

Given under my hand and the seal of the Superior Court of the State of California, this 13th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two.

Summons.

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles.

Frank S. Byers, Plaintiff, vs. Elizabeth J. Byers, Defendant.

ACTION brought in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and the Complaint filed in said County of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to Elizabeth J. Byers, Defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named Plaintiff, in the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service), after the service on you of this Summons—if served within this County; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said Complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and defendant and for costs of suit. Reference is had to Complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, as above required, the said Plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and will apply to the Court
